Whether through captivating poetry, engaging music, or expressive acting, he transforms ordinary moments into profound calls for social awareness and appreciation of nature's beauty.

"Through my art, I aim to connect hearts to nature, fostering awareness and empathy. With every beat and verse, I strive to ignite a passion for our shared world and the changes it needs."

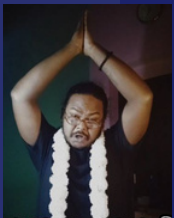

Join us in celebrating the art of storytelling and the power of creativity to envision a brighter future.

Bhundul's journey began with poetry, writing as a child about the world's wonders and struggles. The drum became his heartbeat, and for over a decade, he has been a self-taught performer and teacher, always evolving. His artistry is influenced by various genres and icons like Silajit, Benny Greb, Bobby McFerrin, and others. This diverse inspiration shapes his unique mix of Bengali folk, experimental hip hop, R&B fusion, and spoken word.
